BLUE AND GRAY SOLDIERS WERE "VERY SIMILAR"

Vol. 56, No. 187

SAYS SPEAKER Prof. Bell I. Wiley, Emory University, Atlanta, Ga., told the Civil War Study Group at Gettysburg College Wednesday evening that there were far more similarities between Blue and Gray soldiers in the Civil War than differences.

Their letters carried the same complaints, many soldiers were foreign born, and the overwhelming majority of the men on both sides were farmers.

Wiley noted that there was a greater diversity of occupations represented in the Northern army than in the Southern. In a group of 14,000 soldiers, Professor Wiley tabulated 300 different occupations. A list of occupations declared to the company clerks included such occupations as gambler, gentleman, loafer, and jack-of-all-trades. But, Wiley said, from three-quarters to four-fifths in both armies were from

was the participation of American ANNUAL WCTU Indians in the Civil War. There were three brigades of Indians in the C.S.A. army, and one brigade in the U.S.A. army. At the battle of Pea Ridge, in the early part of the war, both sides were mainly represented by Indian soldiers. Wiley stated that many times officers from both sides found it necessary to take measures to discourage their men from taking scalps from the dead

Ages Similar

In argument against the belief that the Southern army had the oldest and youngest soldiers, without much in between, Wiley said that from official records he found that the average age of the soldiers on both sides was from 21-35. He did find, he said, recorded ages of 11 years old for one drummer boy and 80 years old for another soldier who was soon discharged for "old age and rheumatism."

"Billy Yank" was a better educated soldier than "Johnny Reb" due to a better public school system in the north. Although the carpet-(Continued On Page 6) of making a fortune fairly fast in France is to buy paintings. There is one hitch. You have to know whose paintings to buy. You also have to have money.

Prices on paintings have gone up so fast ir recent years that they have become one of the big speculative gambles.

Dreams Investment The bright and shining success among young French painters at the moment is Bernard Buffet, who had an exhibit recently in the wankiest gallery in Paris, Carpentier's on Faubourg St. Honore. Ten years ago his paintings could be had for $100 to $200. Today almost anything he sketches is priced from $1,000 to $10,000.

His earlier paintings are as valuable as the newer ones. And he is just about 30 years of age.

Just dream about what you could have done with $1,000 invested in Buffet's paintings in 1946, when he was beginning to gain recognition with his hard-etched works. That $1,000 could have become easily $25,000 now, and you could have been happily looking at the pictures all that time while the money grew.

Picasso's Work A lot of people in the early days of the century bought Pablo Picasso's pictures, some to give him a lift, some because they liked his work, and some because they thought it would be a good idea.

Pictures that could have been had in those days for a few hundred to $1,000 dollars now are worth up to $120,000. His current pictures don't bring so much - about $25,000.

Aussie Herb Elliott, 20, Runs MAJORS' ONLY Mile In Fabulous 3:54.5 Min. PENNANT RACE

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) - Australian Herb Elliott, with a fabulous record mile time of 3:54.5 as

"I think a 3:50 mile could come within a couple of years."

told the world:

The 20-year-old Aussie quickly added, "Of course we shall need track conditions like the ones we had last night in Dublin - conditions as near to perfect as any runner could want.'

To Stand For Years It was at Dublin's Santry Stadium that Elliott ran his eighth sub 4-minute mile - with the most fantastic timing ever.

"Elliott's time of 3:54.5 is one that will stand as a mile record for years and years," said British sports experts. "He clipped three and a half seconds off John Landy's official world mark."

The first five men in Elliott's record-breaking mile smashed 4 minutes - the first time in history that such a thing had happened.

Three In 1955 Three did it in 1955 in London when Laslo Tabori of Hungary was timed in 3:59. Four were under 4 minutes in 1957 when England's Derek Ibbotson hit 3:57.2a controversial clocking as the race was paced. Here are the first five placings in the historic Dublin mile: (1) Elliott, 3:54.5. (2) Merv Lincoln, Australia, 3:55.9. (3) Ron Delany, Ireland and Villanova, Philadelphia, 3:57.5. (4) Murray

DISAPPEARING

By CHUCK CAPALDO Associated Press Sports Writer MILWAUKEE (AP)-If the Milwaukee Braves keep winning at their current .720 clip, the major leagues' only pennant race will soon be over.

The Yankees, with a 16-game bulge, seem to have battened down the hatch on the teams beneath them in the American League. And now the Braves appear in the process of doing the same thing in the National.

Biggest Lead In '58

Manager Fred Haney's world champions today hold a six-game ead-their biggest of the seasonon the heels of a surge that has given them 8 victories in ther last 9 starts and 18 of 25 since July 14. That figures out to a .720 pace. On July 14, in what was then the closest race in NL annals only 61/2 games separated the first place Braves and the last place Los Angeles Dodgers. There was only a three-game spread between first and fourth place.

Today the spread between the top and bottom club-the same two teams-is 121/2 games and the difference between first and

SCHOOL BOARD VETOES CHANGE IN EMMITSBURG

Board yielded to a request by the Pomona Grange committee Wednesday that the vocational agriculture classes at Emmitsburg High School scheduled for transfer to Thurmont in September be postponed for another year.

The Grange committee Wednesday had urged the Frederick County Board of Education to maintain the Emmitsburg Junior-Senior High School in its entirety and the vocational agriculture course in particular.

Members of the group said afterward that Emmitsburg High School students who would be in the vocational agriculture course this fall had been notified by letter that if they wanted to continue this course they should enroll at Thurmon High School in September.

They interpreted the letter to mean that the vocational agriculture course at Emmitsburg was being dropped. There were about 23 students who took the course last year, they said. The letter indicated, it was stated, tha transportation would be furnished the prospective students to and from Thur-

It was here that He walked upon the water, calmed the angry storm, multiplied the loaves and fishes, and brought about the great catch that almost swamped the apostles' boat. The lake, lying 682 feet below sea level, is fished extensively to this day and still is famous for the violent storms that whirl out of its surrounding mountains.

But on the day I walked these shores, all was calm and quiet, save for the beat of wings over the still water. The water was a soft blue, dappled with sunlight; the surrounding hills diffused in a heavy haze. "And when He was entered into a ship, His disciples followed Him." (Matthew 9:23).

Frankly, I was worried because Junior had no appreciation for the value of money. He thought it grew on trees. He always came to me for "just a little extra". One day it was for school activities. The next day it was a movie. And so it went.

This constant doling out was giving him wrong ideas. And, it was also denying him the thrill of earning his own money-and buying things on his own.

That's why I encouraged him to get a newspaper route. That's about the only job left these days that gives a boy well-rounded experience in operating a business-buying at wholesale, selling at retail, making collections and building up profits by good sales and service

What a change! He now appreciates the value of money because he works for it.

He doesn't spend his own money foolishly. Before he buys anything now, he takes time to think about the cost. (And the allowance which he used to spend so freely is going into his College Fund.)

Junior is also learning how to meet and get along with all kinds of people and how to put into practice what he's learning at school.

I've got a son to be proud of. A son who already has experience in free enterprise and the American Way of Life. I'm confident that he'll be ready to meet the everyday challenges of his first full-time ioh COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (P) - for his second season.) The single wing is returning to the Southwest Conference and, as taught by Jim Myers, it may pose quite a problem for the foes of Texas A&M. The last time a single wing team played in the league-in 1954-it won the championship. That was

Arkansas under Bowden Wyatt. But Wyatt went to Tennessee and there has been nothing but T formations in the conference since then Myers comes to Texas A&M from Iowa State. He replaces Paul (Bear) Bryant, who used the T formation to win one conference championship and compile a 24-4-2 record in three years. Myers may be the only coach in history to be drafted by a student body. Several thousand students signed a telegram asking the former Tennessee star to come to Aggieland. He came after having once withdrawn his name from consideration for the job.

Myers was an assistant coach at Wofford, Vanderbilt and UCLA before he got the head post at Iowa State. He had nine years under Red Sanders at Vanderbilt and

A native of Madison, W. Va., he played high school football on the Scott team.

Myers became a star guard at Tennessee, and was a captain in the Marines in World War II, getting in some football at Duke in the V-12 program. He took his final season at Tennessee in 1946 before going into coaching.

Myers realized he is taking over a hot spot-replacing the brilliant Bryant. But he's philosophical about "Winning seems to be popular," he says."I've made the circuit as player and coach, been in just about every conference, and I haven't found a substitute for victory, I don't know what conference Wofford (Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Assn.) is in, but it was even suggested there than the coach win occasionally."

The 36-year-old Myers obviously doesn't intend to lose because of lack of effort, "If I find one player dogging it I'm going to move him to end," says Jim.

End, of course, is something like sending a fellow to Siberia. The wingmen take most of the hammering in the single wing.

Myers will have 17 lettermen returning from 1957, plus Murray Trimble, letterman guard of 1955 and 1956 who was ineligible last season. Star end John Tracey, top tackle Ken Beck and backs Dick Gay and Charley Milstead make the returning nucleus look good.

MY BIG HIT

(This is another story by major league stars on MY BIG

By MICKEY MANTLE

Written For Al Newsfeatures The big hit I like to remember was a grand slam home run off Russ Meyer in the fifth game of the 1953 World Series in Ebbets Field. Too bad us Yankees will never see another World Series in that park. It was a nightmare for many

The homer off Meyer was his first pitch in the third inning. (The bases were loaded on an error, a hit batter and walk.) I was preparing to bat right-handed against Johnny Podres, a southpaw, but we already had a 2-1 lead and Charley Dressen, Dodger manager, replaced Podres with Meyer.

So I got up left-handed against the right-handed Meyer. He threw me a curve ball and although I didn't pull it too well the ball landed in the upper left-center field deck (380 feet away).

My homer increased our lead to 6-1 and we won it 11-7. Funny thing, Russ Meyer pitched good ball after that until Billy Martin put one of his pitches into the left field seats for a homer in the seventh.

I think Martin was more excited about his homer. We were roommates that season.

A major league manager writes about MY BIG HIT

By AL LOPEZ The Associated Press

CHICAGO - I got my big hit the first spring I caught in the big leagues It was in 1930 when I broke in with Brooklyn for my first full season. The Dodgers were playing the New York Giants in Ebbets Field and Fred Fitzsimmons was pitching. I made two hits in four trips.

The next day the Dodgers met the Giants in the Polo Grounds and I went four for five, all singles.

I think that the first hit in the big leagues is a thing a fellow always remembers. Mine was a single.

In 1928, just after I had finished the season with Macon and had passed my 20th birthday, the Dodgers brought me up. I caught batting practice the last few days of the season.

Then one day Burleigh Grimes was pitching for the Dodgers. Nobody wanted any part of his spitball, especially the catchers. Then somebody on the bench said to Uncle Robbie (Manager Wilbert Robinson): "Let the kid catch." And Robbie did. I got in three games and went the season and his only hit of the night. A two-run homer by Dale Bennetch, his 15th, sent the game into overtime. Allentown capitalized on five Williamsport errors to score four unearned runs in the first six innings.

Springfield's Roger McCardell drove in two teammates with a first inning single after both had hit safely and had advanced on a wild pitch.

Albany was trailing 3-2 going into the ninth. A walk, Ken Hilyer's single on an error, and another walk loaded the bases. Al Silvera sacrificed one run home and Ben Swaringen won his own game with a single which brought Hilyer home.

BUSINESS TO SET VOLUME OF PA. TAXES on state revenues indicates that business conditions over the next 10 months probably will decide whether state revenues meet budget goals for the biennium.

A joint report by John H. Ferguson, secretary of administration, and A. Allen Sulcowe, acting secretary of revenue, Wednesday noted that revenues of the state's general fund ran 1.9 per cent below estimates for the first 14 months of the two-year period.

The 3 per cent sales tax receipts, the state's largest revenue raiser, and the corporate net income tax, both were below estimates for the 14-month period through the end of July. Below Estimate
